Separate premises, though owned by the same customer, will not be supplied through the same meter.

At such time as said application is granted, said customer may include the cost of such gas in the rental charge paid by said customer's tenants or second party users; and further, such gas will be submetered by said customer to second party users at rates identical to those which the Utility would charge if it served the second party users directly. The current consumer rate schedules will be conspicuously posted at the operator's office. Billings to second party users will include the following information:
