October 2012

Did you know that as much as half of the energy used in your home is for heating and cooling? This heating season, let the road to energy savings begin with reliable, affordable natural gas.

If you're replacing your home heating system, new energy efficient natural gas heating systems are up to 98% efficient! Take comfort in knowing that natural gas heating is preferred by homeowners who want to save energy, reduce emissions, and protect the environment.

Here are some energy saving tips:

- Change filters regularly. Equipment works more efficiently when filters aren't clogged or dirty.
- Set your thermostat between 65° and 68°F and lower the setting at night, health permitting.
- Weatherize your house by making sure insulation, weather stripping, and attic ventilation are adequate.
- Have a licensed professional inspect your furnace for the season.*

Looking for more ways to save?

Natural gas appliances help you reduce energy costs while protecting the environment. Review the list of simple energy-saving tips below and discover how to lower your utility bills.

- Set the water heater temperature to 120°F for most uses and set it to “vacation” mode when away for one week or more.
- Use low-flow showerheads and faucets.
- Clean the lint screen filter in your dryer after each load. A dirty lint screen can use 30% more energy.
- Refrain from opening the dryer’s door unnecessarily as this lets warm air escape.
- When cooking, cover pots to retain heat.
- Pre-heat your oven only when necessary.
